ACCIDENTAL VIOLATION. Whereas sexual activity is likely to involve rapid movement and impaired judgment; whereas either Party may, through no fault and without intent, penetrate an orifice not made available for sexual activity under this Consent, therefore the Proposer and the Consenter agree that such an incident shall be regarded: (choose one)

- as an accident, and retroactive affirmative consent will be assumed.
- as an assault, and the burden of proof to the contrary shall fall on the violated Partner to demonstrate the satisfaction of another Partner that the incident was accidental and acceptance of such a demonstration shall be taken as implying retroactive affirmative consent.

FAILURE TO PERFORM. Whereas the Consent to participate in sexual activities does not guarantee the ability to perform those activities, therefore failure to perform such acts under this Consent for reasons including but not limited to physical, physiological, or emotional impairment shall not be considered a violation of this Consent; and both the Proposer and the Consenter waive any right to legal redress for such failure to perform.

EARLY TERMINATION. Both the Proposer and the Consenter have the right to withdraw this Consent at any time, without providing any reason. To withdraw the Consent, the Proposer or the Consenter shall notify the Partner in writing by the following method: _____. Upon receiving withdrawal notification, all further actions shall cease, and reasonable efforts will be made to remove or delete any related materials from any existing records or databases to the extent possible. The withdrawal of the Consent is effective from the date of notification, and any actions taken prior to the withdrawal in reliance on the original Consent will not be affected.

CONFIDENTIALITY. The Proposer and the Consenter agree to keep all confidential information disclosed during this Contest confidential and not to disclose such information to any third party unless required by law. The Proposer and the Consenter agree not to use the confidential information for any purpose other than what is necessary to fulfill their obligations under this Consent. This confidentiality clause shall survive the termination or expiration of this Consent.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Proposer and the Consenter have executed this Consent as of the Effective Date.
